&
YEAR END
SHOWCASE

Sunday, June 14th • 12:00pm
Centennial Theatre, North Vancouver

WELCOME!

To the 2026 Year-End Show! 61 Years of Dance!

We acknowledge that we dance on the səliłwətał (Tsleil-Waututh) and x^wməθk^wəyəm (Musqueam) First Nation's ancestral and unceded territory and are grateful for their hospitality.

Welcome to Our 61st Season!

It is with immense joy and gratitude that we welcome you to the 61st season of Seymour Dance. We are deeply honoured to celebrate this incredible milestone with you all.

For six decades, our studio has been a place where passion meets discipline, where creativity flourishes, and where generations of dancers have found their rhythm, their confidence, and their second home. This season is not only a celebration of our history, but a tribute to the countless families, students, instructors, and supporters who have made our journey so meaningful.

We hope you enjoy our year-end production of Alice in Wonderland and our Boogie Wonderland showcases.

With love,
Lauren, Marissa, Katie

NOTES

From our Artistic Director Lauren Overholt

Welcome to our Year End Production of Alice in Wonderland!

I am beyond excited to bring back the very first full-length ballet production I brought to the stage in 2019, now reimagined with an elevated and whimsical new take. Revisiting this story for the first time has been such a joy, and it has been incredibly special to dream up some fresh new ideas to create a magical new adventure for our dancers and audiences alike.

Every year, one of my favourite parts of this process is watching an idea grow from imagination into a full production on stage. None of this would be possible without the inspiring team of talented teachers, choreographers, costume designers, backstage crew, and volunteers who work tirelessly to help bring every vision to life. I am endlessly grateful for the creativity, passion, and dedication they pour into our program.

Most importantly, I am so proud of our dancers and all of the hard work, growth, and heart they have put into this production. The commitment and joy they bring to the studio every day is what makes these performances so meaningful. As the Cheshire Cat says, "Every adventure requires a first step." My hope is that every dancer continues to dream big, embrace every adventure, and never stop believing in the magic of what is possible.

Thank you for being here to support and celebrate these incredible performers. We hope you enjoy the show!

With love,
Lauren Overholt

SYNOPSIS

For Alice in Wonderland

On a golden summer afternoon in the forest just outside Oxford, Alice attends a charming outdoor garden party hosted by her parents' friends. Sunlight filters through the trees, music drifts softly through the air, and the grown-ups chatter endlessly about sensible things. Alice tries to entertain herself with her two sisters—wandering among the trees, playing small games, and letting their imaginations roam—but the polite world of manners and conversation soon feels far too quiet for her curious spirit.

While exploring the forest paths, Alice suddenly collides with a young man strolling by, lost in a book. Embarrassed apologies turn into shy smiles as they exchange a brief, gentle moment before he continues on his way. Though they part almost as quickly as they met, something about the encounter lingers in Alice's thoughts. Restless and dreamy, she wanders back to the edge of the gathering, curls up beneath a beautiful tree, and drifts into a dreamy sleep.

As she dreams, the ordinary forest transforms into something magical. A flustered White Rabbit darts past, anxiously checking his watch and fretting that he is terribly late. Delighted and intrigued, Alice springs up and follows him, tumbling down a rabbit hole into a land where logic twists, time dances, and imagination rules.

Alice awakens in Wonderland—a place of delightful nonsense and endless surprise. She encounters the mischievous Cheshire Cat, who fades in and out of sight with teasing grins and riddles. She meets the dreamy Caterpillar, whose gentle questions encourage Alice to wonder who she is and who she might become. At the Mad Hatter's tea party, time itself seems to have stopped, and Alice is swept into a whirlwind of eccentric characters, joyful chaos, and playful absurdity where the impossible feels perfectly natural.

As she journeys onward, Alice begins to notice a familiar figure: a kind and dashing young man who feels strangely connected to her. In this dream world, he is the Knave of Hearts. She soon realizes he is the same young man she bumped into in the forest, now transformed into a romantic hero of Wonderland. Through graceful dances, fleeting glances, and tender moments shared amid the madness, Alice and the Knave grow closer. Their connection becomes a thread of warmth and sincerity in a world full of riddles and illusions.

For Alice in Wonderland

Though Wonderland is unpredictable—filled with sudden changes of size, peculiar rules, and unexpected challenges—Alice grows braver with every step. Guided by her curiosity and strengthened by her bond with the Knave, she begins to trust herself, discovering a confidence she never knew she possessed.

Their journey leads them to the dazzling yet dangerous court of the Queen of Hearts. The Queen rules with dramatic flair and a fiery temper, commanding her card courtiers through elaborate croquet games, absurd trials, and extravagant displays of authority. When the Queen threatens the Knave, Alice refuses to remain silent. Summoning her newfound courage, she defies the Queen, choosing love over fear and imagination over obedience. In a magnificent burst of rebellion, Wonderland spirals into joyous chaos.

At the height of the spectacle, the dream begins to fade. Alice awakens beneath the tree in the forest outside Oxford, the afternoon light warm on her face, her sisters nearby, and the sounds of the garden party drifting gently through the trees. The magic has vanished—but Alice is forever changed. She returns to the real world with a heart full of wonder, a new sense of confidence, and the lingering sweetness of a dream where she discovered courage, imagination, and the first flutter of love.

GUEST PERFORMERS

June 12th-14th, 2026 / All Shows

Giovanni Giordano as the Knave of Hearts

In the U.S. he has been awarded for an “outstanding performance” at “VIBE USA” in 2017. He has worked with the “Goh Ballet Youth Company” (Vancouver), performing main roles such as Arabian, Spanish and Nutcracker Prince in the production of the “Goh Ballet’s The Nutcracker.” In 2018 after being awarded at the “Surrey Festival of Dance” (BC) in both categories “Contemporary duet” (1st place) and “Classical Pas De Deux” (1st Place), he performed in the World Premiere of “Cinderella” in Vancouver, choreographed by Maina Gielgud. He has collaborated with local artists in Italy, taking part in summer events like “Meet Matilde Neruda” and “Zorba the Greek” in open-space theatres. In 2019 he also started working with BalletBloch, partnering in performances like the Nutcracker and Swan Lake. In 2022 he performed with Coastal City Ballet for their Cinderella.

Tyler Carver as the King of Hearts

Tyler Carver began training at the age of 12 at the Goh Ballet Academy in Vancouver, BC, where he completed his RAD Advanced 2 exam with distinction. He completed a year of training at San Francisco Ballet School and then joined the Royal Winnipeg Ballet as an Apprentice in 2014, was then promoted into the Corps de Ballet in 2015. Since joining the Company, he has had the opportunity to perform in such works as Giselle, Nutcracker (as the Nutcracker Prince), Going Home Star - Truth and Reconciliation, Swan Lake (as Spanish and Pas de Trois), Sleeping Beauty (as Blue Bird), Dracula (as Jonathan Harker) and many others. He also made a special appearance in the leading role of Solor in the RWB School Professional Division’s performance of La Bayadere excerpts. He has extensive experience in partnering work and R.A.D. exam coaching.
